Sleeping Beauty

THE BALLET

Music composed by Peter Ilyich Tchaikovsky

Staged after Marius Petipa

Additional Choreography by Andrea Pell & Sarah Symons

"The Sleeping Beauty" was first performed in St. Petersburg in 1890. The Russian composer, Peter Ilyich Tchaikovsky was commissioned to write the music for a ballet based on a fairytale by Charles Perrault. The original production was choreographed by Marius Petipa and the premiere took place on January 15th, 1890 at the Imperial Mariinsky Theatre in the presence of Tsar Alexander III. Though the ballet was recieved favorably, it was not until 1921 that, in London, the ballet finally gained wide acclaim and took a promient place in the classical ballet repertoire.

Prologue

The Lilac Fairy and her fairies gather to celebrate the birth of Princess Aurora, bearing gifts of beauty, grace, wisdom, temperament, generosity, and voice to honor the baby. The Queen and her attendants welcome friends from the kingdom, the fairies, and their attendants.

In the midst of celebrations, thunder and lightning herald the angry arrival of Carabosse, the wicked fairy who is mistakenly not invited to the celebration. The furious Carabosse curses the baby princess by declairng she will prick her finger on a poisoned spindle and die on her sixteenth birthday. The Lilac Fairy intervenes and breaks the evil curse by assuring the Queen that Aurora will only fall into a long sleep after she is pricked. Carabosse leaves and the Queen, the Fairies, and friends happily pay homage to the baby princess.

Act 1 – The Birthday

The lights come up on a colorful garland waltz, celebrating Aurora's sixteenth birthday. Friends, birthday attendants, and the Queen are all on hand to welcome the young princess's first entrance. As the festivities proceed, a cloaked figure appears and entices Aurora to approach her. A spindle is pulled from underneath her cloak and Aurora eagerly grabs it before anyone can stop her. Spinning, enthralled with the yarn, Aurora suddenly pricks her finger. Dropping the spindle, she slowly realizes she is unwell, and finally falls to the ground, surrounded by her friends. The mysterious cloaked figure reveals herself as Carabosse and believes her curse to kill Aurora has worked. Once again, the Lilac Fairy breaks the spell and banishes Carabosse forever from the kingdom. Princess Aurora is carried away as the Lilac Fairy and the night stars put the kingdom into a deep and long sleep.

Act 2 – The Awakening & The Wedding

With the help of night stars, the Lilac Fairy guides the Prince to the spot where Princess Aurora is sleeping on a bed of roses. After awakening her with a kiss, the Prince leads Aurora to the palace where they will be united in marriage.

At the palace, fairies, friends, and fairy tale characters celebrate the wedding of Aurora and the Prince. Sapphires, Puss N' Boots, Little Red Riding Hood and the Wolf, Cinderella and the Fairy Godmother, and the Bluebird play out their stories before Aurora and the Prince are joined together. Everyone pays homage to the royal couple as the Lilac Fairy bestows the final blessing for eternal love on Aurora and her Prince.

Jessica Brandt

Jessica Brandt began dancing at the age of 12. After years of begging her parents, sneaking her mom's old pointe shoes to her room, and religiously wearing them around the house, her parents had enough and finally gave in. It took five and a half years of training in various studios to settle at BSB. Although it's been less than a year, she feels she can truly call BSB her second home. Despite many difficulties in the past year, she has never had such a positive experience on and off stage. Her most memorable roles with BSB have been Chinese in Nutcracker and SongBird Fairy in Sleeping Beauty. Jessica will be attending Brenau University this coming semester. She is majoring in Dance, intending to join Gainesville Ballet's Company and minoring in dance Pedagogy. Jessica's primary goal is to bring more positive change to the dance world through teaching.

Mary Grace Campbell

Mary Grace Campbell is a graduating senior from Mother of Divine Grace Catholic School where she excelled in her poetry & honors-level history courses. Mary Grace was also an active member of St. Monica's Catholic Church youth group and was blessed to receive her confirmation under Father Jack's guidance. She started dancing at the age of 2 with Buford School of Ballet. Mary Grace has danced & performed with the BSB & GCDT for 15 years. She has also enjoyed teaching and being involved with all the wonderful students at BSB. Some of her favorite roles have included Tinkerbell in Peter Pan, Nalla in The Dancing Lion King, and Chip in Beauty and the Beast. Mary Grace also has been in the pre-professional class with Ballet Conservatory of North Georgia for 4 years. She would like to thank her mother, "Miss B", Ms. Sarah, Ms. Pell, Ms. Savannah, Ms. Pam, and the many wonderful teachers that have guided her over the many years.

Mary Grace was accepted, studied, and given a scholarship to the prestigious Houston Ballet at the age of 12 & 13. As a senior in high school, she has received 3 more scholarships with top professional ballet companies - The Charlotte Ballet, Sacramento Ballet, and the Sarasota Ballet. She has also received Trainee positions for the 2021-2022 Season with the Milwaukee Ballet, Charlotte Ballet, Sarasota Ballet, and the Sacramento Ballet. Since then she has performed as numerous characters in BSB productions including Dorothy in The Wizard of Oz, Belle in Beauty and the Beast, Ariel in The Little Mermaid. She has also performed various roles in Star of Wonder such as Snow Queen, Dew Drop Fairy, and the Christ Candle. Of all the roles she has performed her favorite was The Sugar Plum Fairy. After graduating high school, she was accepted into Nashville Ballet's Professional Training Division and had the opportunity to perform in Nashville ballet's The Nutcracker. Christyna has been working as a ballet demonstrator at BSB since she was twelve and has been teaching ballet for several years. This year she has enjoyed teaching the Senior Company division and working with the company as they prepare for their 2020 Star of Wonder.
